INTRODUCTORY.

In submitting to the public the seventh volume of the AKRON CITY DIRECTORY, the publisher feels confident that it will be received with as much favor as has been accorded to the previous issues

The present volume shows an increase in the alphabetical portion of the work of 32 pages, while the total number of names is 10,645

After making a liberal deduction to allow for the duplication of firm names, etc , we find that, calculating by our usual method, viz , adopting the multiple 3, Akron has at the present time a population of fully 31,935 These apparently large figures are accounted for thus In making the annual canvass we do not confine ourselves to the corporate limits of the city, as is the custom of directory publishers in other cities, but include the entire suburbs, which contain not only a number of manufacturing industries, but the residences of a large number who work at the various shops in the city, and whom we consider ourselves justified in counting as part of Akron's population In conclusion we congratulate our fellow-citizens on the continued prosperity of the city, which is everywhere evidenced by the number of new enterprises which have been started within the last year, and the continued activity in building operations We are contented to let the volume rest on its merits, and take this opportunity of returning thanks for the very liberal patronage bestowed upon the work

AKRON SEED STORE.

ESTABLISHED 1878.

110 W. Market St., Hall's Block, cor. of Canal St.,
AKRON, OHIO.

SEEDS. THE AKRON SEED STORE is now generally known in the city and surrounding country as the best place to buy

GARDEN, FLOWER AND FIELD SEEDS.

We handle mainly VICK'S FLOWER SEEDS and generally have a general assortment of those most called for

In Field Seeds we make a specialty of Seed Corn and Seed Potatoes of superior sorts During the coming autumn we shall offer superior Seed Wheat

PLANTS. THE AKRON SEED STORE has also an established reputation for supplying superior

VEGETABLE AND BEDDING PLANTS, and furnishes yearly many thousands of Sweet Potato, Early and Late Cabbage, Tomato, Pepper, Cauliflower and Celery Plants, as well as large numbers of Geraniums, Coleus, Fuchsias, Verbenas, Roses and other Plants for house and lawn Spring and Fall Planting Bulbs, and quantities of Strawberry and Raspberry Plants

AKRON HOME MARKET.

For years we have contemplated this enterprise but have never quite been in condition when our Seed business slackened to undertake it on such a basis as we wished

The City Market House is so far from the center of the city that there is need of a similar provision near the center of the city Such a provision so far as Fruit and Vegetables are concerned we will endeavor to make, supplying

HOME GROWN FRUIT AND VEGETABLES

in as fine condition and at as low prices as the City Market

NO DELIVERY.—We shall imitate the methods of the market house in this particular If our customers will do their own delivering we can afford to make prices such as will pay them to bring their baskets and take their purchases home with them, as they would from a market house

Grateful for the liberal patronage which our Seed enterprise has received, we trust that the AKRON HOME MARKET may deserve and obtain as liberal patronage

Respectfully,

AKRON, O., June 30, 1884

AKRON BUSINESS COLLEGE

112 S Howard Street, AKRON, O.

ON THE threshold of its nineteenth year, having always discountenanced the shams which have disgraced the cause of Practical Education, and refused to mount the hobbies which have made so many schools, styling themselves Business Colleges, the butt of deserved ridicule, and objects of profound contempt to practical men,

THE AKRON BUSINESS COLLEGE

offers the best helps which the experience of

TWENTY-TWO YEARS

of school work have put in the power of the proprietor, who gives personal assistance and instruction to every student of the school

The A B C offers unsurpassed advantages for acquiring, with economy of time and effort, a really practical knowledge of

BOOK-KEEPING,

BUSINESS PENMANSHIP,

PRACTICAL ARITHMETIC,

and the best system of PHONOGRAPHIC SHORT-HAND and other practical subjects

Each student taught separately

Day and Evening Sessions

Reasonable Tuition Rates

The proprietor is a practical man of business as well as a teacher of large experience

Our References We do not reprint former boastful "paid puffs," calling them "press notices," but cite any inquirer to a score of our former pupils now in business for themselves in this city and elsewhere

Call and see us or send for College papers, Business Common Sense and Stenography, free to any address

Respectfully,

LAKE CHAUTAUQUA.

Lake Chautauqua—View from Griffith Point Lakewood Station (N Y P & O R R) in the distance.

“ Upon these shores, where all invites, “ This limpid space of time prolong,
 We live our languid life apart, Forget to-morrow in to-day,
This air is that of life's delights, And leave unto the passing through
 The festival of sense and heart, The Sea, the Town, and the Highway ”

LAKE CHAUTAUQUA.

[The Cleveland Sketch Book]

It is perhaps a work of supererogation to give the geographical location of Lake Chautauqua as there are few people whom The Sketch Book will reach without a place in their memories devoted to pleasant hours spent on its silvery bosom, along its forest-fringed grassy shores, and in its hotels. It is the objective point toward which, with each recurring summer, a vast army of those who seek pleasure, make their way. The number has increased with every year until it is Legion. No one ever went to Chautauqua but duplicated the visit. The place grows on one. It has been said of the prairies, the vast pasture plains of the great West, that one who has inhaled their pure ozone laden atmosphere and strained his vision over their limitless expanse for the period of a week, ever after has a yearning for the grass fields—a yearning that his presence among them alone can satisfy. The same is more or less true of Chautauqua, the invigorating air, the beautiful surroundings—natural and artificial, and the informal manner of living which one obtains, leave such happy remembrances that one who sojourns on the lake for a time, however brief, finds within him an ever-present desire to visit the spot again. And each successive visit but endears the place. There may, however, be one or two persons within the sphere of this publication's usefulness who have no information as to the exact location of the lake. To such it may be said that the sheet of water which gives a name to everything in the angle of the Empire State, is situated in the extreme western county, the north end of the lake being but a few miles from Lake Erie. Chautauqua is eighteen miles long—from the head of the outlet to Mayville, and is from one to three miles in width. There are several interesting natural facts to be stated with reference to this body of water. Its level is 730 feet above that of Lake Erie, and about 1,200 feet above the Atlantic. Although from Mayville, which lies at the head of Chautauqua, Lake Erie may be plainly seen, the waters of Chautauqua find their way to the ocean through the Mississippi instead of the St. Lawrence. There are no visible inlets, and the source of water supply is from underlying springs.

The great popularity of Chautauqua as a place of resort may be ascribed in part to the ease and comfort with which it may be approached. It is less than a day's travel from any given point. The pilgrim from Cleveland enters one of the elegantly appointed Buffet cars of the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio Railroad, and in five and a half hours, almost before he has had time to completely surround the contents of the daily paper, he is at Lakewood. From Cincinnati the trip may be made over the main line of the same road in twelve hours, from Chicago in eighteen, and from New York in thirteen hours. The country, especially the western part of Pennsylvania, through which the road passes, is beautiful, and the rapid transit presents an ever-changing panorama of magnificent views.

The landscape as seen from the lake is perfect in its loveliness. The scenery, while not so grandly magnificent as that of the Adirondack and Catskill region, is much more pleasing. The eye wearies of nature in her rugged forms, there is a sameness about mountain scenery which palls on the fancy after a time. It is wearisome from its bold, self-asserting angularity. The soft, undulating curves of Chautauqua—the forest fringed summits of the hills, the green meadows and the golden stubble fields, furnish pictures which never tire, and which have furnished motives for more attractive work by artists than all the eastern part of the State. The white houses nestling among the orchards, the red barns and the rail fences of the thrifty farmers, instead of detracting from the picture give a certain degree of character to the view. It is at night at Chautauqua that the true lover of nature derives the grandest pleasure. There is something about the serene stillness, the silvery shimmer of the waters, and the uncertain outlines of the hills which softens the soul and gratifies the æsthetic part of the beholder's nature, when the same surroundings in the daylight would make no impression. A sheet of water, whether great or small, with its resistless movements is suggestive of eternity. It defies time and is the same forever. The face of the land may be changed in appearance, the lake remains unaltered. As the writer sat on the boat landing at Lakewood watching the broken image of the moon in the ceaselessly moving waters, thoughts of Him who had created the mysteriously formed lake, and who had stilled the waters on the Sacred Sea, arose. The grand lines of a grand poet came forth involuntarily.

"O thou Eternal One! whose presence bright
All space doth occupy—all motion guide,
Unchanged through Time's all-devastating flight, Thou only God! There is no other god beside."

Of the places of resort along the lake little need be said. They are well known. Long Point, Bemus Point, Maple Springs, Chautauqua Point and Fair Point, each have their admirers. The last named place was the original abode of the Chautauqua idea which has of late years become so widespread. Chautauqua graduates are found in every community and their numbers at each year's session of the C. L. S. C. run up into the thousands. Spruce forbids, even if the character of this publication would warrant, any extended definition of the Chautauqua idea or its results. Maysville two miles distant from Fair Point, is a town of considerable magnitude and pretension. Jamestown, two miles down the outlet, is one of the pleasantest, most thrifty little cities of the East. Of all the points on the lake, however, Lakewood is and will continue to be the most popular. It has the advantage in location, scenery and hotels.

There are wordlings who scoff at the mere mention of Chautauqua, for the reason as they give it, that the atmosphere is essentially religious. It is possible that the moral standard of the several points open for visitors is rather too elevated to be entirely congenial to the souls of those to whom reference is made but that the temporary residents or the practices of any of the Chautauqua Lake Resorts are so exclusively moss-backed and bigoted in their piety as to be objectionable to the veriest skeptics, is untrue. At Fairpoint the exercises might possibly bring up visions of pulpits—if this be objectionable—but the exercises are also of such a character, that even the most liberal adherent to Ingersollian belief might find his mind a little more developed, his views somewhat more liberal in the right way, and himself the possessor of a deal of valuable information by a close attendance upon the meetings of the C. L. S. C. As a pleasure resort, a place to seek and mingle with society—society the most refined and cultured—the points on Chautauqua present opportunities not offered by the watering places of the sea-board.

The presence at Lakewood at one time of Oriental Commandery K. T., the Grays, the Canoe Club, and Sketch Club of Cleveland, gave to the place a great interest for the people of that city. The ten days' encampment of the Grays was a period long to be remembered by those so fortunate as to be there. It was a time filled with the most unqualified pleasure for all. From reveille till taps, and for several hours before and after, the day was devoted to nothing but enjoyment, and the diverse ways in which it was obtained forbade the idea of monotony. Canoeing seemed to be the favorite amusement. The sport is at once the most exhilarating, healthful and pleasurable of the entire card of athletics. There is a sense of freedom from all restraint to be found in a "Racine" which cannot be found elsewhere. The cranky craft, of which there were nine, including the elegant boat presented Commodore Gardner by the Grays, were well patronized, and their bottoms had little opportunity to remain dry. At night, when all other resources failed, the ball-room invited participants in, and spectators to the dance. The evenings are invariably so cool that mid-summer dancing is not a burden at Lakewood. Taken from the first day of encampment until the time of striking the tents, there was not a minute but had its particular pleasure and not an unpleasant incident occurred, although several of a character directly contrary might be recounted.

CLIMATE-SEEKING IN AMERICA.

BY GEORGE ALFRED TOWNSEND—"GATH"

As nations rise in wealth, comfort and communications, they discover that the simplest of all things, mere climate or air, is of the greatest value. The English race paid early attention to this question and seized upon the sheltered positions, the spas and baths as places of resort both for weak systems and for luxurious existence. Religion itself conveniently placed its miracles and chapels where the best climate or the most healing waters were found.

* * * * *

In pursuit of climate, it is probable that the first movements were made by the people of the populous states of Virginia and Pennsylvania. Any one who possesses a library of travels in America, conveying successive pictures of our social life from colonial times down to the day of railroads, will discover numbers of perished watering places.

For instance, about the time of the Revolution, the chief summer resorts in Pennsylvania were about York, as at York Springs, and I possess pictures of old log hotels at some of these resorts, where the outspurs of the Blue Mountains gave a little altitude above the surrounding plains. The wounded soldiers in the Revolution were sent up to Ephrata and Litz and Bethlehem, where the air was good and nurses were to be had.

* * * * *

The nearest approach of the Alleghany range, of which the Blue Ridge is the first parallel, to the great interior lakes of North America, is at Chautauqua. At this lake the Alleghany range, which divides the sources of the Ohio valley from the great lakes, is between 800 and 1,400 feet high, every hill arable, and the earliest settlers observed how quickly the apples, pears and plums succeeded in the mild climate. They were surprised to find, at an altitude of more than 1,300 feet above the ocean, a noble sheet of water twenty miles long.

The fine climate about Chautauqua is in much a matter of altitude. Proceeding either east or west from this point, the shores of the great lakes lie comparatively flat, and in the state of Ohio there is but one eminence sufficient to be called a mountain, and that is the Little Mountain not far from Painesville, a mere knob only about 200 feet above the plain, and ten miles back from Lake Erie. Even here some comfort can be had by the inhabitants of the plain, and a hotel was built at least fifty years ago.

I have been almost an extensive traveler in the United States, not like commercial travelers, merely visiting the towns and trading points, but the scenery and the health resorts. About twenty-four years ago I went on the plains and the vocation of special correspondent was then just rising into consideration, and I threw myself toward it, desiring to gratify "the lust of the eye" by my newspaper facilities. Even before I left school I had tramped through the Alleghany mountains, through the Sinking Spring valley, the Seven mountains and the fountain town called Bellefonte, in the heart of the Alleghanies. Next I went through the Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys, visited the old resorts in the lap of Pennsylvania under the Blue Mountains, and in the midst of the war was a battle correspondent at such places as the Faquier White Sulphur Springs. Next, lecturing opportunities took me through New York state and the West, and I visited Fredonia twice, in the vicinity of Chautauqua Lake, and there heard of the beautiful region almost overhanging it, on the highlands. With renewed opportunities I have been in California, about Los Angeles, and at Santa Barbara, and in Southern Georgia and Florida, and in Cuba, at the Hot Springs of Arkansas, on the summits of the Osage mountains where the trade wind blows, at Springfield and through the Indian territory, and at San Antonio, in Texas, with smaller journeys to Oakland and the Green Brier White Sulphur Springs, on the Alleghany tops and the Peaks of Otter, and along all our coasts as far as Mount Desert and New Brunswick, and several times in the White Mountains, down the St. Lawrence to the sea and out the Northern Pacific railroad, and I miss no opportunity, when I can afford it, to extend my information of places and people.

This is only said in order to give some idea of the relative quality of the air about Chautauqua Lake. I have seen no place where the air is so pure and the nights so agreeable anywhere along our lakes, and the spot seems almost arranged by nature with a reference to the anticipated arrangement of the people and the lines of communication in this republic.

When you consider that the low grade railroad route to the West must turn the Alleghany mountains to the North and use the limited space between those mountain spurs and Lake Erie to reach the West without unnecessary expenditure of steam power, it would seem that Chautauqua Lake had been adjusted to the coming lines of travel.

Surely the spot is most agreeable for health and enjoyment to the great homogeneous people who are nearly evenly divided in numbers by the Alleghany range.

* * * * *

It is of advantage to an invalid to have a resort from which the surrounding world of men is attainable. That accounts for Fortress Monroe in the winter, with probably an inferior climate, absorbing much of the best travel to Florida. It is softer than any indentation to the north of the Chesapeake, and can be reached by a husband, or brother, or wife, from any of the great centers of the North in a very little time. The same is the case with Chautauqua Lake, it is only a night from the East, and a night and day from the far West. It is especially a summer climate and the foliage of Western New York in the autumns is not equaled on the globe at least not in the temperate zones. The finest autumn tints I ever recollect to have seen are in Western New York, where the character of the trees assimilates to the ardor of the foliage, and the maples and poplars almost imitate the finery of the Indians who once dwelt in their region.

The Western States do not possess the variety of the East in coasts, hills, spas, and scenery, much of the Mississippi valley is limestone hill or flat plain, bare of mountains, and the first cool and lovely spot reached from the West is on the lofty headwaters of the Ohio, near Lake Erie. Following the Lake Shore to the westward I do not know of a single spot to be found like Chautauqua, though one should go as far as Duluth, where I have been also in the time of its prosperity, about 1872, the heat at Duluth, though so much farther to the north, was much greater in midsummer than it is on the Chautauqua uplands. Indeed, the heat of the American summer penetrates almost every resort, and I have known at Saratoga some of the most stagnant days of my life

* * * * *

LAKEWOOD.

One of the most popular of the many points on Lake Chautauqua is Lakewood. Here all passenger trains of the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio R R stop during the summer season. Quite a little settlement has sprung up here during the last few years, owing to the influx of visitors in the summer months.

The choice of location was a wise one, for a more beautiful spot would be hard to find. With its picturesque cottages surrounded by trees, its velvet lawns sloping down to the lake, the church with its spire, the great hotels with their cool and shady verandas and the lake in the foreground, it presents a perfect picture of rural loveliness.

There are two hotels at Lakewood, the Kent House and the Lake View, both being of immense size, capable of accommodating four or five hundred guests each. Visitors will find them more attractive and complete this year than ever.

The Kent House is four stories high, and fronts 500 feet on the lake, having wide piazzas around each story. Some idea may be gained of the size of the house and the preparations for guests from the fact that the grand dining-room is 175 feet long. This room affords an excellent place for dancing, and guests have frequent opportunities of "tripping the light fantastic," excellent music being furnished by the management. The house is elegantly furnished throughout, nothing being wanting that is required by a first-class hotel, and its popularity is attested by the fact that many come back year after year to enjoy its excellent social privileges and its admirable cuisine.

The Lake View House is admirably situated on the immediate shore of the lake in a natural grove, with carefully kept grounds on either side. It has wide verandas and balconies for the upper stories, from which you have charming views for miles around. The side nearest the water has a glass front, inclosing a large inner court, which is used as an assembly room, where promenading and dancing is the order of the day and night, and this, again, has a gallery around three sides, from which the visitor can watch the parties below, and at the same time enjoy the full benefit of the view and breezes from the lake.

The rates at the Kent House are $14 to $17.50 per week, and at the Lake View $12 to $14 per week, and when it is considered that both hotels set excellent tables, and furnish all the modern conveniences, and have every appliance of comfort and luxury—gas, bath-room, electric bells, telegraph and telephone, the prices demanded are certainly reasonable enough. Letters to the proprietor should be addressed, Lakewood, Chautauqua County, New York. Besides the hotels there are two first class boarding houses at Lakewood. Rates, $8 to $10 per week.

OTHER POINTS ON THE LAKE

Directly across the lake from Lakewood is Griffiths Point, below which, at the beginning of the outlet is Fluvanna. This is the oldest point on the lake. The land has an elevation of about fifteen feet above the water and stretches away until at the distance of a mile back a considerable altitude is attained. There are two hotels at Fluvanna, the Fluvanna House, Mr H. A. Whittemore, proprietor, and the Sherwin House, Mr F. E. Sherwin, proprietor. A short distance above Griffiths Point, on the same side of the lake, is Marthas Vineyard, the former camping ground of the Mahoning Club, of Youngstown. A new hotel, the Pavilion, has just been completed at this point and will be opened for guests the present season. A few miles up the lake from Marthas Vineyard is Bemus Point. Rows of stately poplars mark the landing from which by a short ascent the Chautauqua Lake House is reached, almost adjoining which is the new Lenhart House. Here too, within a short radius are numerous farm houses where limited numbers of guests are entertained during the season, where they regale themselves with cream, butter, cheese &c, for which this section has justly become famous. This is the headquarters of the hunter and the fisher, Whitney's Bay, in the immediate vicinity being well stocked with bass and the royal muskallonge.

A short distance above Bemus Point is Long Point, beyond which on the south side of the lake is Fair Point, the famous "Chautauqua Assembly Grounds," a short sketch of which may not be inappropriate.

CHAUTAUQUA ASSEMBLY GROUNDS

The famous "Summer School" and "Assembly" was organized here in 1874, and holds its eleventh annual meeting in July and August of the current year. It is a vast educational, religious, and recreative institution, and the "Original" of all modern assemblies. Its moral atmosphere protects and builds up both parent and child. Here is freedom without license, and recreation without harmful amusements. Its society is, in the highest sense, refining, and the educational influences are manifold. The grounds cover some one hundred and thirty acres of the choicest woodland, beautifully laid out in parks, drives and walks. Here is to be seen a model of the Holy Land lying on the shore of the lake, (which, for this purpose, represents the Mediterranean Sea,) a model of the Jewish Tabernacle, a model of Jerusalem, a sectional model of the great Pyramid, a Museum of Sacred and General Archaeology, and numerous other matters of universal interest, in the presence of which the Biblical student can in spirit, traverse the land sanctified by the presence of our Savior.

Here is an Auditorium capable of seating 3,000 people, and a new Amphitheater which will accommodate 6,000, the Hall of Philosophy in St Paul's Grove, the Children's Temple, the Chapel, the Norman Pavilion, etc., etc.

The grounds and buildings will be refulgent with the electric light. In this, as in all matters concerning the comfort of the visitors, the management has placed itself in the lead.

The attractions for 1884 embrace the annual session of "The Chautauqua Teachers' Retreat," and "The Chautauqua School of Languages," beginning July 12, the Retreat continuing three weeks, and the School of Languages six weeks, "The Chautauqua Sunday School Assembly" beginning August 5, and continuing until August 24, "The Foreign Missionary Institute," "The Chautauqua Musical College," "The Chautauqua School of Theology," and the various meetings connected with the "Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle," the "Look-Up Legion," and the "Chautauqua Young Folks' Reading Union." A "Chautauqua Summer School" for children will be organized, to be taught by the most accomplished instructors in the United States, which, together with Lectures, Concerts, Class Drills, Stereopticon Exhibitions, Fire Works, etc., etc., will not only furnish an intellectual feast which can not fail to gratify even the most exacting, but instruction and entertainment will be so blended as to satisfy the cravings of all.

Boarding may be had at reasonable rates, and fine cottages rented for the season, either entire or by rooms, as also tents of all sizes. A Government Post-office has been located on the grounds, as also are offices of the American Express and Western Union Telegraph Companies. The Hotel Athenaeum is located within the grounds, and is a model of architectural beauty. Its splendid parlors are connected with broad verandas fronting and near the lake, and possesses dining room capacity for some 600 people at a sitting.

It is elegantly furnished throughout, and is supplied with gas, electric lights, electric bells, elevator, baths, telegraph office, news stand, barber shop, etc., in short, is metropolitan in all its appointments.

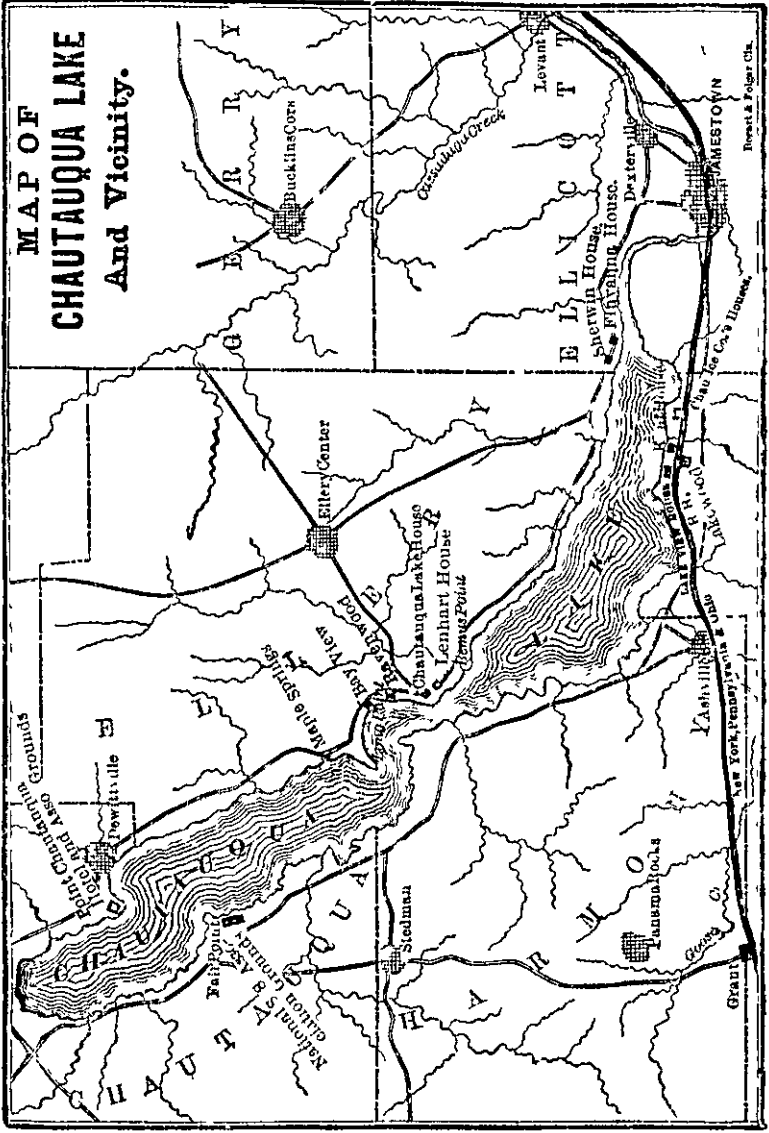

POINT CHAUTAUQUA.

Directly across the lake from Fair Point is Point Chautauqua. The Baptists hold their annual meetings here in July. The point is beautifully situated, and commands exceptionally fine lake views for miles around in every direction. The Grand Hotel at this point is elegant in all its appointments, and is possessed of all modern improvements. The grounds are beautifully laid out, and an abundance of delightful cottages are in the vicinity where good board can be secured. From the Chautauqua Assembly Grounds to Point Chautauqua is a short and pleasant sail directly across the lake. Many of the visitors take advantage of this, residing on the Point during their stay at the lake, and making daily pilgrimages to the Assembly grounds. Steamers and yachts cross every few minutes, and the charge for ferrage is but nominal.

A short run of four miles brings us to Mayville, on the extreme western shore of the lake. The town is built on a hillside and extends down to the water's edge. The ridge on which the village is built forms the great water shed from this region, from the top of which a view of Lake Erie is had, extending as far as the eye can reach. A glimpse of the setting sun from this eminence is one 'long to be remembered.

HIGH-BRIDGE GLENS, CUYAHOGA FALLS, OHIO

Extract from the Official Report of the inspection of the C., Mt. V. & D. R. R., made Sept. 11 and 12, 1882, by Lieut. Geo. Röhlen, Professor of Military Science at the Ohio State University, to the Hon. H. Sabine, Railroad Commissioner.

"No road in the State that came under my observation this summer shows such marked improvement as does this. In addition to the work done on the structures to make them secure for the traffic of the road, extensive improvements of a permanent character have been made. These are all of a high standard of strength and superior in design and manner of construction to structures of the same kind and for the same service which were made a few years ago—thus recognizing in advance the requirements of the continually increasing weight of engines and freight loads."

N. H. BURCH'S
CUYAHOGA FALLS BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

1884-5.

This village, the second place in size and the most picturesquely located in Summit County, has a population of about 3000 inhabitants, on the Cuyahoga River, in the township of the same name. It is one of the most important stations on the C, A & C and P, C & I' Railways, $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles from Akron and 12 from Hudson, and is easily accessible from all points through connections made with other roads.

Probably no place in the State possesses as many natural advantages or points of interest. There are here a number of much frequented by tourists and particularly by picnic parties, the principal of which are High Bridge Glens and Caves, with beautiful shady grounds and fine large pavilions, opposite which the C, A & C R R have recently erected a handsome waiting room and platform, Gaylord's Grove, for many years a favorite resort for pleasure seekers, Voss & Guth, ^{the Live Gro-} 161 S. Howard St., Arcade Bl'k.

Pleasure Resorts,

^{cery} Men.

with swings, croquet and base ball grounds, boating, etc , Big Falls and Old Maid's Kitchen, the latter a large cavern discovered in 1826, and still an object of great interest to tourists and picnic parties, Silver Lake, or Stow Pond, is also much resorted to by pleasure parties, many of whom come here to camp during the Summer season Two small steamers, with busses and carriages convey excursionists to and from the different resorts

Manufactures.

There is probably no place in the State which shows such an amount of enterprise in manufacturing industries The following are the principal The sash, door and blind factory of H Snyder, one of the largest in the State, the Rivet Works of the Falls Rivet Co, the Variety Iron Works of Turner, Vaughn & Taylor, the Cuyahoga Forge and Iron Co, American Foundry and Machine Co, the Railway Barb Fencing Co, the extensive Sewer Pipe Works of Geo P Sperry, the Hollow Brick Works of H B Camp, the stoneware factory of Thomas Brothers, the Pearl Flouring Mills of Loeser, Clark & Co, the Cuyahoga Paper Co, the tannery of C Kittelberger, the carriage factories of Wm Blong, Clayton & Reid, and Vogan, Tryon & Clark, and the marble works of Wiemer Brothers, besides a number of smaller concerns

Churches and Schools.

The churches are four in number, viz

First Congregational—Rev E V H Danner, pastor

Methodist Episcopal—Rev J R Keys, pastor

St John's Episcopal— _____, pastor

Disciple—Elder F O Eggleston, pastor

The schools are under the supervision of a Board, composed of H C Grant, president, W O Beebe, W M Griswold, C Kittelberger, D J Thomas, E Inskip, Chas Clark, clerk, W H Rowlen, superintendent
