WE MANUFACTURE THE FURNACE IN FIVE SIZES:

No. 15, No. 25, No. 35, No. 45, No. 55.

JAHANT & WEBER, AKRON, O.

TO THE PUBLIC.

WE invite special and careful attention to our Jahant Hot Blast Furnace, with Steel Radiator, of which we make five sizes, suitable for heating Dwellings, Halls, Churches, Business Rooms, Hotels and School Houses

Having been engaged in the Furnace business for years, and having tested it thoroughly with the various kinds of fuel of our country, in every description of building, and its being made of good material, by skilled workmen under our personal supervision, we are well prepared to supply the increasing demand for a First-class, Durable, Simple, Economical and Healthful Furnace

The universal satisfaction it gives, the perfection, simplicity and common sense plan of its construction, the purity and large amount of air heated, its very large radiating surface and great heating power, and the control of combustion and economy of fuel, make it, in the opinion of those using it, as well as in our own, superior to other Warm Air Furnaces

Covered by letters of Patent of November 25, 1890

The new form of Combustion in Furnaces invented by Mr Jahant has for its especial character the supply of Hot Air above instead of cold air from below the fire The inventor was led to test this method of supporting the combustion in the hope of obtaining better control than was possible in furnaces In furnaces of the ordinary construction the air is drawn through the grate underneath the fuel and passes up through the burning mass where its oxygen is given to the coal The current through the fire therefore depends for its strength upon the intensity of combustion

The mechanism employed to obtain a thorough combustion in The Jahant Hot Blast Furnace is an inlet pipe leading into a box set in the hot air chamber in front of the furnace from which two smoke proof combustion pipes lead into the furnace The opening of these are situated just above the top of the fire pot and they deliver the Hot Air downward at an angle of 45 degrees The air is thus warmed before it reaches the fuel and the chilling effect of a cold blast is entirely obviated The air issuing from these combustion pipes though warmed is yet much cooler, and consequently heavier than that in the furnace itself It therefore sinks through the latter and falls upon the top of the coal There is accordingly a down draft about the middle and an up draft round the circumference The consumption of fuel is unusually perfect, no cinders remaining among the ashes The great advantage claimed by the inventor for the new form of furnace is the absolute control over the combustion which is obtained by the Hot Blast overdraft The air let in through the combustion pipe comes into direct contact with the fuel unhindered by the accumulation of ashes on the grate. A very small amount is sufficient to keep the fire alive, and a furnace of this construction can therefore be left to itself for a longer time than is possible when the draft ascends through grate that is being every moment more and more clogged with ashes and clinkers.

Though especially adapted to the consumption of soft coal, yet it is quite as well capable as most forms of furnaces of being used with anthracite. The former kind of fuel is, however, that with which difficulty is most frequently experienced.

Experiments have fully confirmed all that has been asserted regarding the new furnace. It may be left to itself for days together, except in very cold weather, save for the purpose of putting on fuel which is not needed as frequently as other kinds of furnaces, owing to the better control of the fire. The ashes may be left for weeks, as their accumulation has no injurious effect on the fire, but acts rather the other way until the fire pot becomes full.

Several other advantages accrue from this method of supplying the Hot Air over the fire. The accumulation of a thick bed of ashes on the grate acts as a jacket, and by its high non-conducting power prevents all loss of heat downward. When this mass is considerable, the lower part is comparatively cool. This is no small gain. Again, the introduction of the Hot Air above the fuel secures more thorough combustion. The top of the fuel is kept hotter than it can be when the draft comes from below, and consequently the smoke arising from the lower layers is largely destroyed in passing through the upper ones. These and the better control of the combustion unite in producing a great economy in fuel. It comes about in two ways at least, as may be readily seen on a moment's consideration. In the first place, the facts just stated must result in a great reduction of the fuel burnt by preventing its direct waste, and in this matter the absence of cinder and half burned coal is no small element. It is easy to see how much is rejected in ordinary use in this state. In shaking the grate a large quantity is always shaken through unavoidably and thrown away.

Further, the absolute control over the combustion enables the householder, when the weather is warm, to keep the furnace alight with a very small expenditure of fuel, because the fire can be kept burning on a very much smaller scale than is otherwise possible. By this means the burning of a quantity of unnecessary fuel is avoided and the temperature maintained at a more agreeable and wholesome degree.

In an experiment 50 pounds of coal was placed on the grate as soon as the fire was kindled on the top. The furnace was then closed and left entirely to itself, untouched and unvisited, from 5 P. M. till 6 P. M. on the following evening, without even changing the draft. The following is the record of the temperature of the air issuing from the register into the store overhead: 6 P. M., 149° , 6 30 A. M., 95° , 10 30 A. M., 86° , 12 M., 82° , 2 30 P. M., 77° , 6 P. M., 75° . Sufficient fuel and fire remained at the end of the experiment to kindle the furnace again without any trouble, and on stirring this and adding 5 pounds of coal the temperature at the register was raised in fifteen minutes to 100° .

The above experiment is abundantly sufficient to show that the advantage claimed by the inventor of greater control over the combustion is well founded. Besides this, however, it may be added that several times during the past winter the furnace has been left absolutely untouched from Saturday night till Monday morning without going out, and as above shown the time and labor required to urge it to full action are but small.

The claim advanced is that with this improvement—the Hot Blast Overdraft—what has hitherto been practicably unattainable may be easily attained, and that with it a furnace can and will do alone and unattained what without it requires great care and attention. When to this is added the saving in fuel and the great simplicity of construction, there being no complicated contrivances to get out of order or to require frequent cleaning, the advantages claimed by the inventor are sufficiently obvious.

The Jahant Hot Blast Furnace is the only furnace manufactured by which you can have absolute control over a soft coal fire.

JAHANT & WEBER,

166 S. Howard St., AKRON, O.

CONSTRUCTION

—OF THE—

JAHANT HOT BLAST FURNACE.

Patented November 25, 1890

THE BASE for the Portable Furnace and bottom ring for holding double casing is made in one section, adding strength and holding the Furnace firmly on the foundation. There is sufficient space allowed to fully supply the Furnace with air from the pit underneath, and also to allow the air to pass between the outer and inner casing.

THE ASH PIT is deep and wide. It gives an unusually large space under the grate for holding the ashes.

THE GRATE is "duplex" in form, but with a rocking side motion, obtained by using cams or levers, which is a decided improvement on the old style of cog wheels.

THE FIRE POT is constructed in two nearly equal parts. After careful investigation and long trial we have found that this is the only way to make a fire pot proof against cracking. Its success is past dispute. We make the sections of good new iron. The upper and lower section can expand and contract independently of each other during the progress of heating and cooling.

THE FEED SECTION, or combustion chamber above the fire, is made in the form best adapted to consume the gases and also to bring the products of combustion in close contact with as much of the surface for heating as possible.

THE CHECK DAMPER is of the latest and best pattern. It can be operated with a chain from the rooms above.

THE CASTINGS in our Furnaces are of the best new pig iron, heavy, well moulded and closely fitted. No old iron is used in any of our Furnaces.

NO BOLTS are used to hold the sections together. They are made to fit perfectly, always allowing for the expansion and contraction thus preventing warping and cracking.

THE SMOKE PIPE collar is adjustable coming from the Furnace in any required direction. The Furnace can therefore be placed fronting the most convenient way.

TESTIMONIALS.

We print only a few of the many that we have received. Others can be seen by calling on us at our store.

A letter similar to the following was written to the persons who herewith recommend the Jahant furnaces.

DEAR SIR,

Below please write us such a letter of recommendation as the No. 35 Jahant Hot Blast Furnace we put into your house has warranted you to

Very truly yours,

JAHANT & WEBER

HERE ARE A FEW OF THE REPLIES.

Messrs. JAHANT & WEBER

AKRON, O., March 16, 1891

Gentlemen—The Jahant Furnace you put in my house last fall certainly contains that most and important feature, economy. Furthermore, gentlemen, it has proved to be a grand satisfactory success all around. I am highly pleased. It is without a question superior to all the other furnaces, and my experience in other furnaces has been considerable, but your furnace is without a doubt at the head. I was wonderfully surprised also to learn of the small amount of fuel it takes to keep your furnace in constant heat. For convenience, rapidity in starting fire, saving of fuel, etc., your furnace is incomparable and stands without a rival. I can cheerfully and truthfully recommend the Jahant Furnace to everybody.

Yours very truly,

ANDREW W. FRITZ, 228 Allen St.

AKRON, O., March 19, 1891

Gentlemen—Permit us to certify our approval of your "Jahant Hot Blast Furnace" as a heater. The one you put into our store last fall has given us more than satisfaction in comfort and cleanliness. The pure imitation of a summer atmosphere through our store in the coldest of weather is something to strive for. You can have it with a Jahant Hot Blast Furnace. For economy we must say that twice the amount of coal used by the Jahant Hot Blast Furnace would not have heated our store to the same extent with any class of stoves. We cheerfully recommend this furnace to anyone or to all who contemplate buying a furnace as a perfect dust and smoke proof, economic, first class furnace.

Gentlemen—In reply to your request that I state to you my experience with your "New Hot Air Furnace," I beg to say we have used one of them for heating our store and laboratory since November 1st, 1890, with perfect satisfaction. For ease of management, economy in fuel and simplicity of adjustment in regulating the amount of heat, in my judgment, it stands to day unsurpassed.

Very truly yours,

Gentlemen—The Jahant Hot Blast Furnace No. 35 which I bought of you last fall, has proved very satisfactory to me in every particular. It is very economical in fuel, easily controlled, and we have had no trouble with gas or smoke. The expense of heating my whole house of eight rooms this winter has been less than previous winters to heat half the house with stoves. I can heartily recommend your furnace to any one who desires to buy as being first class.

Yours very truly,

A. W. HAWKINS

In reply to your inquiry we would say, the Jahant Furnace you put in our house last fall works to our entire satisfaction. It is economical in use of fuel, and we receive speedy returns from the same. We find it burns soft of hard coal and coke equally well, and there is no dirt or unpleasant gases arising therefrom, and no trouble to keep fire a reasonable length of time. Wishing you success in your enterprise we remain,

Yours respectfully,

This is to certify that the Jahant Hot Blast Furnace put in my house last fall by Messrs. Jahant & Weber has given the very best of satisfaction. It has heated the house perfectly this winter on about 10 cents per day for fuel. I am particularly pleased with the very gentlemanly and obliging manner in which I have been treated by the above named firm and can heartily recommend them to any one who contemplates buying a furnace. My house contains seven rooms.

I take pleasure in recommending your furnace to any of my friends. My house has seven rooms. I burn two tons of slack per month at $1.50 per ton. Any one wishing to see it work can do so by coming to my house. You have done all you agreed to do, that is all any one can expect.

Gentlemen—The furnace I purchased of you last fall a Jahant Hot Blast, has been fully tested and I am thoroughly satisfied with the result. The fire has not gone out but once during the winter, and my house has been comfortably warmed during the coldest weather. Most of the time I keep the drafts closed. It is very economical in the use of coal and very easily regulated, and it is entirely free from gas and dust throughout the house. I use soft coal.

Yours respectfully,
C. H. JENNINGS, 141 Coburn St.

TO THE PUBLIC

AKRON, O., March 13, 1891

Having recently purchased of Messrs. Jahant & Weber a Jahant Furnace, I have in one month been fully convinced that it is the most perfect heating apparatus in the city. I heat more room with less fuel than I did heretofore with two stoves, and I am free from all dust, smoke and gases that naturally arise from any stove more or less. I would be much pleased to show the perfect work and workmanship of my furnace to any one who may call at 205 Allen Street.

Respectfully,

Gentlemen—In reference to the Jahant Hot Blast Furnace placed in my house last fall I take great pleasure in saying that we have been entirely satisfied with its workings, in every possible respect. We have found no trouble in warming all the rooms in our house uniformly, when the registers are all turned on, and we find the furnace to be a very quick heater, economical and easily managed. If I were going to purchase another I would get the same kind. With best wishes for your success, etc., I remain

ANN'S DIRECTORY IS FULL OF NAMES.

But what's in a Name? One of old thought there was much in a name when he said

"Who steals my purse steals trash, but he who filches from me my good name takes that which not enriches him but makes me poor indeed"

Competitors have endeavored to take away the good name of the

BUCKEYE

Which it has won through long years of triumph, but their efforts have failed and the

FAMOUS BUCKEYE HARVESTING MACHINES

Stand to-day without flaw or blemish at home and abroad as the acknowledged

STANDARD OF THE WORLD.

They are Manufactured by

ROLLED - AVENA - (OATS,)

Put up in Barrels and Cases 36 Packages 2 lbs. Each

Oatmeal, Rolled and Cracked Wheat, F. S. New Process, Cascade, Stone Mills, Whole Winter
Wheat and White Wheat Graham Flour,
Pearl Barley, Hominy, White and Yellow Granulated Corn Meal, and all kinds of Mill Feed.

They have recently added to their long list a new cereal of inestimable value to those suffering from impaired digestion.

Rich in gluten, germ, gum and dextrine, it is favorably received everywhere under the name and trade mark.

Schumacher's Parched Farinose.

For infants it may well supersede all other foods (save milk which can never find a perfect substitute during the first weeks of life), because its ready and perfect digestion involves no strain upon feeble digestive powers. It contains all the elements demanded by the growing life and for like reasons is equally adapted for invalids. By fever patients it is used as a thin gruel and is partaken with some relish even when genuine appetite and all craving for food are suspended. Its bland mucilage-like qualities peculiarly adapt it to all inflammatory conditions, especially in typhoid and other states in which intestinal lesions exist which are liable to be increased by irritating food. For the BRAIN WORKER it will be found satisfying and helpful because of its high phosphatic qualities. For all refined, active, ardent, progressive human beings, it will prove a PERFECT FOOD, supplying all waste and restoring every exhausted energy. Added to all its excellences, its appetizing flavor will commend it to the palates of man, woman and child alike.

Cuyahoga Falls,

The most picturesquely located spot in Summit county, possessing more natural advantages for the manufacturer, and more points of interest for the tourist and pleasure seeker, than any other point in the State, is located on the C, A & C and P & W R Rs, 4½ miles from Akron, and eight miles from Hudson. It is quite an important station upon both roads, and is easily accessible from all points. It is the second place in size and population in the county. The Cuyahoga river, from which the village takes its name, furnishes almost unlimited power for manufacturing purposes, which is here fully taken advantage of.
