

LOST VOICES

OF The

Great War

Summit County in the First World War

Film Screening

Tuesday, October 30, 7 pm

Akron-Summit County Public Library
Main Library Auditorium

This new, locally-produced documentary recounts the experiences of Summit County residents during World War I. Combining dramatic first-person accounts, narration, interviews and music, the film brings to life period letters, films, photographs and documents from local archives. Panel discussion to follow.

Lost Voices of the Great War is a production of Stan Hywet Hall & Gardens and The University of Akron Archival Services. This program is made possible, in part, by Ohio Humanities, a state affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities.
